Treasury Department,

BUREAU OF THE MINT,

Washington, D. C., January 14th., 1889.

O. C. Bosbyshehl, Esq.,
Superintendent, U.S. Mint,
Philadelphia, Penna.

Sir:

Referring to my letter of yesterday and to your telegram of today in reference to the amount of silver forwarded you from melting test coins, I have to state that the total amount of silver given in my letter should have been 177.76 ounces [not 199.42 ounces], of which 21.66 ounces are to be taken up in your accounts as a purchase for the subsidiary coinage at the coining rate, and the remainder as a purchase for the standard silver dollar coinage at the coining rate.

Respectfully yours,

Director of the Mint.
